Enhanced Compliance – Protecting Corporate Reputation

1. The effective date of the penalty.

Comparison between Decree 41/2018/ND-CP and Decree 132/2026/ND-CP – Article 3

DESCRIPTION	DECREE 41/2018/NĐ-CP	DECREE 132/2026/NĐ-CP
Statute of limitations for penalties	The old framework of 41/2018 is not immediately reflected in the excerpt here, nor is the detailed interpretation as in 132/2026	Amend Clause 3 of Article 3, clearly stipulating the method for calculating the statute of limitations for: completed acts; acts in progress; and accounting violations under Decree 132, along with criteria for determining the time of cessation of the violation.

Businesses must comply with accounting and tax principles as required by law.

Strict Compliance – Risk Management – Sustainable Growth

2. Amendments and supplements to penalty provisions

Comparison between Decree 41/2018/ND-CP and Decree 132/2026/ND-CP – Articles 6 and 35a

DESCRIPTION	DECREE 41/2018/ND-CP	DECREE 132/2026/ND-CP
1. Fine amounts and principles applicable to organizations	Decree 41/2018 provides the framework for penalties in the field of independent accounting/auditing; the penalty levels and authority are designed according to the original framework.	Amend Clauses 2 and 3 of Article 6: affirm that the penalties in Chapter II are applicable to organizations, except for certain listed laws; at the same time, the principle "if an organization violates the law, the penalty is twice the penalty for an individual" is more clearly defined..
2. New practices related to anti-money laundering in accounting services businesses.	Decree 41/2018 does not yet have such a separate section in the extracted data.	Add Section 8 and Article 35a to Chapter II, imposing penalties for violations of regulations on anti-money laundering; anti-terrorism financing; and anti-financing of weapons of mass destruction in accounting services business..
3. Specific AML/CFT errors in accounting services.	Decree 41/2018 does not include in this excerpt a specific penalty for AML/CFT errors in accounting services.	Article 35a outlines several categories of punishable conduct, such as: failure to identify/update/verify customer information; failure to update blacklists; failure to assess and update risks; failure to issue or incorrect issuance of internal regulations; failure to store and secure information; failure to report large/suspicious transactions; violations involving politically influential foreign customers; and other prohibited conducts.

3. Sanctioning authority and penalty levels

Comparison between Decree 41/2018/ND-CP and Decree 132/2026/ND-CP – Articles 69, 70, and 71

CONTENT	DECREE 41/2018/ND-CP	DECREE 132/2026/ND-CP
1. Authority to make records and impose penalties	Decree 41/2018 establishes a sanctioning hierarchy based on state management authorities, but the excerpt here does not show the new structure in detail as in Decree 132/2026.	Adds Chapter IV on authority, including Articles 69, 70, 70a, 71, and 71a; clearly tiers the authority of Directors of Departments of Finance, Directors/Heads of accounting and auditing supervision bodies, State Bank inspectors, Chief Inspector of the State Bank, Chairpersons of People's Committees at all levels, and handling of violations in electronic environments.
2. Handling violations in electronic environments	As the original text, Decree 41/2018 does not separately set out an electronic enforcement mechanism in the excerpt here, unlike Decree 132/2026.	Adds Article 71a, regulating the handling of administrative violations under this Decree in electronic environments in accordance with the Law on Administrative Sanctions and the relevant guiding decrees.

Strict Compliance – Risk Management – Sustainable Growth

4. Independent auditing

CONTENT	DECREE 41/2018/ND-CP	DECREE 132/2026/ND-CP
Independent auditing	Decree 41/2018 regulates both accounting and independent auditing.	The provisions displayed in Decree 132/2026 mainly focus on accounting, accounting services, and AML/CFT.

Complying with legal regulations will help businesses stay safe and minimize the risk of penalties.
